I think it is ridiculous for the government (and the 9 remaining states + DC) to keep suing Microsoft over windows 2000. Doesn't the government have better things to spend taxpayers money on?? It is a great operating system and easy to work with. Bill Gates has gone a long way in developing the computer industry. The government has got to stop destroying American business which was a dangerous trend that socialists Bill and Hillary Clinton had gotten started with the tobacco industry.

I have no idea if anyone will be reading this but I think I have a valid point.
